

Tamils Against Genocide (TAG)

US-based organisation specialising in criminal-accountability filings — including the 2014 'Crimes Against Humanity' submission to the US Department of Justice and ongoing work on US-domiciled individuals implicated in war-era violations.

TAG is cited as one of several diaspora legal-accountability actors whose work TLTE does not duplicate. Its filings against US-resident former Sri Lankan officials demonstrate the route that universal-jurisdiction and US-domestic mechanisms can take when international ones are blocked.

§1 Why it sits inside /case

TAG's filings are part of the wider Tier-A accountability ecosystem alongside ITJP (UK), PEARL (US), USTPAC (US), GTF and BTF. TLTE links — it does not file. Universal-jurisdiction work is the work of legal counsel, not civic publishers.

Sources

- USTPAC — companion US-policy briefings.
- PEARL — companion documentation.

What this is not

- This article does not assess the merits of pending or filed cases.
- This article does not name individual defendants or witnesses.